Weeping Willows

Katie grew up on Willow Court in Midland, Texas where weeping willows really do grow. As a child, she loved to watch their branches sway in the wind and sit in their shade, shielded from the hot summer sun. This Weeping Willow design is Japanese in origin, resulting from a gravestone rubbing. The rubbed image was enlarged and put into a generous repeat to capture the luxurious scale of this elegant tree. Weeping Willows is especially striking when backed and used as wallpaper or as soothing curtains. Weeping Willows is printed in Switzerland on 100% Belgian linen and comes in three, meditative colourways: Sky, Ginger, and Wasabi.
