TEXTURED TICKING

Stripes have been around forever. Since the striped shirt became the official uniform of French sailors in 1858 (because it was supposedly-thanks to those 21 blue and white stripes-easier to spot a man who fell into the sea), this simple pattern has had the power to transport us to luxurious escapes like Biarritz, Positano and beyond. Textured Ticking, our nod to this nostalgic longing for travel and lazy summer days that never end, can be used on upholstery indoors and out.

Available in 4 Natural colorways: Egret, Baked Earth, Moss and Truffle.
